ADVISE

ADVISING members is a core role with deeply-embedded policy expertise. Chamber committees and panels represent the collective view of the industry;

- ► We provide expert advice on key topics from decarbonisation to safety
- ► We facilitate sharing of good practice, case studies and lessons learned
- ▶ We deliver a timely, impartial, tailored service to members and partners
- ► We assist members by signposting regulations and future policy developments
- ▶ We consolidate industry views in consultations
- ▶ We support members to deliver success

ADVOCATE

Successful ADVOCACY requires clear evidence-based positions, strong government relationships, and partnerships with national and international bodies;

- ► We are passionate advocates for the industry and its people
- ► We lead the thinking and shape the debate
- ► We engage with Government and regulators in future policy development
- ► We are highly influential at both UK and international level
- ► We represent our members' interests whatever their size or sector
- ► We deliver strong thought leadership across a complex industry

AMPLIFY

AMPLIFYING both our core policy positions and the intrinsic value of shipping requires a focused communications strategy delivered in conjunction with partners;

- ▶ We are the authoritative voice of UK shipping
- ► We promote the industry and its vital role in UK prosperity and security
- ► We champion the value of seafarers and the range of maritime careers
- ► We proactively drive improved safety culture and performance
- ► We lead media campaigns on key policy issues
- ► We champion industry relevance to regulators, partners and the public

ADVANCE

ADVANCE horizon-scanning helps the industry identify and act on key future trends to meet the challenges and opportunities of tomorrow;

- ► We source robust data and diverse perspectives on emerging trends
- ► We engage with members to assess the consequences for shipping
- ► We ensure the industry has the skills to thrive in a rapidly changing world
- ► We lead the debate on decarbonisation and digitalisation
- ► We act as a catalyst for change and innovation
- ► We ensure a sustainable future for the UK shipping industry

OUR VALUES

We put service to our members at the heart of everything we do

We earn trust through openness and transparency

We deliver ambitious results through diligence and determination

We act with unfailing integrity, independence and impartiality
